

Criteria E: Evaluation

Success Criteria	Explanation
1	The StaffForm allows the staff members to generate reports for all the records stored in the database, therefore they have the ability to track client and paper history using these reports
2	Staff members are not given access to forms developed for the supervisor, and the supervisor is not given access to forms developed for the staff. Staff member are only given access to insert/delete or update records in DB, while the supervisor has been given access to run different queries and generate reports.
3	Detailed forms that use drop-down lists, radio-buttons etc., such as the AddRecord form, are developed where staff members cannot punch incomplete fields to the database. This database is in turn used by the admin to create reports. Therefore, this criterion is met as the data in the database is accurate and detailed.
4	The AddRecord form allows the user to select the storage space using interactive buttons.
5	Buttons like 'back' to navigate between forms have been added ensuring easy navigation.
6	Validation checks have been added to the password field independent of the designation of the user.
7	Text Files that contain the name of the order that is being handled by a particular manager can be created by the manager. The order name directly links to the client, therefore, following criterion is fulfilled.

Word count: 214

Recommendations for Future Development

The program largely functioned as expected by the staff supervisor and the staff

However, they recommended the following changes to the forms

AddRecord Form

- When a new value is input in a field that had been set a drop down list, the new value should become part of the list, the next time the user tries input the same value, it should appear on the list.
- The Panel that asks the user to choose a storage space for the paper, should be more detailed. The panel should contain a more realistic picture of the space available in the factory.

Admin Form

- The staff supervisor thought that he should be given the ability to delete a comment from the list of comments that appends on the text area.

Team and Client Relationship Form

- Staff Supervisor wanted the extended ability to search for the client name that a particular manager was attending to. Currently, the form only allows the supervisor to search name of the order that a manager is handling.
- The Supervisor also wanted the ability to delete contents of the file that he created through the button 'Team and Client Relationship', so that the names of the orders that had been delivered could be removed from the file.

Reports

- The spreadsheets currently only print to screen. Staff Supervisor thinks that the ability to print the reports would be useful, using the software.

Word count: 206